

Mouse & Insect Glue Boards

Designed for Monitoring. Built for Responsible Pest Management

Built with Intention

Pro-Trap™ Mouse & Insect Glue Boards were developed to support the realities of pest management, where performance, monitoring, and responsibility all matter. Every board is designed to reflect the standards expected in the field, not only in results, but in how tools are selected, placed, monitored, and removed.

Pro-Trap is a glue board designed to support intentional monitoring and responsible pest management.

Designed for the Field

Effective pest management tools don't just perform, they support informed decision-making.

Pro-Trap glue boards are designed to perform consistently throughout the service interval, remain stable in real-world field conditions, and maintain their structural integrity even in damp or challenging environments. From placement to monitoring to documentation, Pro-Trap supports a more thoughtful approach to glue board use.

The result is a tool that reflects responsibility at every stage of the service process not just at capture.

Stay connected for the latest pest management solutions.

Responsibility Matters

Responsible pest management carries an obligation — to customers, to environments, and to the industry as a whole. That's why Pro-Trap is built around a simple principle:

EVERY TRAP SHOULD HAVE A REASON, A RECORD, AND A RESULT.

Reason

Intentional placement
based on conditions and need

Record

Monitoring and documentation that inform decisions

Result

Outcomes that support effective, responsible pest management

Designed to Support Responsible Use
